Patent Grant Data/OCR

ASCII text for U.S. patent grants issued prior to 1980 for which there was no searchable text in the USPTO US Patent database. Generated by processing 300 dpi Tagged Image File Format (TIFF) images of the patent pages through an OCR engine. The resulting ASCII text has not undergone any manual validation or correction processes.

Patent grant text produced using U.S. Patent Grant Image data from 1790 through 1979 as input. The 1920 to 1979 update contains documents either captured again because of errors in the original OCR documents or because they were not present in the original capture. Sample data of this OCR data is available on a CD-R, at no charge. The following year ranges are available:

PatentIn

A computer program designed to expedite preparation of patent applications containing nucleic acid and amino acid sequences.

PatentIn generates sequence listings that comply with all format requirements specified in the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) Standard ST.25 and the related U.S. final rule, "Requirements for Patent Applications Containing Nucleotide Sequence and/or Amino Acid Disclosures," 37 CFR §§1.821 – 1.825 effective July 1, 1998.

PatentIn 3.2, a maintenance release of PatentIn 3.1, contains some enhancements, effective November 20, 2002. USPTO's authoring software for sequence listings is required for biotechnology applications disclosing DNA or protein sequences. Replaces all earlier versions.

Both the software and the user manual can be downloaded from the USPTO web site at no charge.

DOWNLOAD FILE

Download PatentIn software for Windows NT/95/98/2000/XP at no charge from the PatentIn software site at www.uspto.gov/web/patents/software.htm. The disc space required to install PatentIn is 3.5 MB. Additional disc space is required to store project files and sequence listing files. For help related to downloading the application, call the USPTO Contact Center (UCC) at 800-786-9199.

For help using PatentIn, or to report problems running the program, call the PatentIn Help Line at 703-306-4119 or send e-mail to patin3help@uspto.gov. A minimum of 64 MB of memory is recommended for smaller projects, otherwise 128 MB is recommended. Memory greater than 128 MB may be required for larger sequence listings. PatentIn has been tested on Windows 95, Windows 98, Windows NT, Windows 2000, and Windows XP. It is expected to run on Windows Me as well, but has not been tested on that operating system.

United States Patent Classification to International Patent Classification Concordance

Guide for relating the U.S. Patent Classification (USPC) System as revised through August 1999, to the Seventh Edition of the International Patent Classification (IPC) System as published by the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), Geneva, Switzerland.

Intended only as a guide or tool providing information for the user to quickly access the correct, general classification area of the IPC7. Because of differences in the philosophies of the two systems, a complete one-to-one relationship has not been attained. Also known as the USPC-IPC Concordance and Concordance File.

The Concordance List Of USPC Classes (Data as of August 31, 1999) is available at the USPTO web site. A linked web page, Classifying Within The International Patent Classification System (IPC), provides information on the differences between the USPC and the IPC with basic steps for classifying documents into the IPC.

U.S. (Federal) Government Patenting

All patent documents (i.e., utility patents, design patents, plant patents, reissue patents, defensive publications, and statutory invention registrations) granted by USPTO since 1977 for which ownership was assigned to the U.S. Government at the time of grant.

Parts A1 and A2 of this report provide yearly totals for patents granted during the most recent 14 years. Part A1 distributes the patents by their dates of grant and Part A2 distributes the patents by their dates of patent application. Totals are broken down by origin (determined by the residence of the first-named inventor), either U.S. or foreign. Yearly counts show the 36 foreign countries receiving the most U.S. patents during the period.

Part B shows the Federal organizations that received one or more patent documents since 1977. Federal organizations are ranked in terms of total patent receipts and profiles their annual patenting activity for the most recent 14 year period. Patent grants are distributed in two ways, by year of grant and by year of patent application. Updated annually.
